

WE'RE ALL CONNECTED

DEAR FRIENDS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST CANCER :

When you give to a charitable organization, you may wonder, “Where do the funds go? Is my donation really making a difference?” At the Illinois CancerCare Foundation, we want to make sure you know how your dollars are used and just how much they matter. That’s why we share this annual report with you each year.

This year’s report illustrates the many connections between your gifts and the patients we serve. As the graphic to the right shows, your donations fill a critical funding gap, helping ensure any local patient who is eligible and interested can participate in a clinical trial. In fact, your generosity is a major reason Illinois CancerCare is ranked one of the nation’s top enrollers in clinical trials—ahead of such well-known names as Dana-Farber and the Mayo Clinic.

CONNECTING YOUR DONATIONS AND SUPPORT DIRECTLY TO

But research isn’t the only way your gifts connect cancer patients with the help they need. With your support, we’re able to award grants, offer educational programs and fund volunteer efforts that do more than advance cancer treatment. They help improve quality of life for our patients and their loved ones.

When it comes to the fight against cancer, we are all truly connected—and every contribution of time, talent and resources makes a difference. On behalf of our Board of Directors, Advisors, Young Leaders and Volunteers, thank you for giving so generously!

With sincere appreciation :

THE BEST TREATMENT & CARE

Pharmaceutical Funding

Drug companies need a platform to test their latest cancer therapies. At select Illinois CancerCare clinics, our patients can participate in industry-sponsored clinical trials, funded by pharmaceutical companies, which allow access to drugs before FDA approval.

PHARMA

FOUNDATION

FEDERAL

Federal Funding

Through the National Cancer Institute (NCI) Community Oncology Research Program, Illinois CancerCare shares in $2.5 million of annual funding for NCI clinical trials. That allows patients to take part in these critical research efforts at all 12 Illinois CancerCare locations.

Foundation Funding

The cost of clinical trials exceeds the amount we receive from the NCI, and budget challenges have resulted in a loss of more than $2.6 million in NCI funding over the past seven years. Thanks to your ongoing financial support, the Foundation is able to fill these gaps—and ensure no patients lose access to clinical trials. We've committed up to $400,000 per year for the next four years to help ensure local patients receive the quality care they deserve, close to home.

2015 RANKINGS

Illinois CancerCare regularly enrolls more patients and outperforms larger, nationally known institutions when it comes to clinical trials.

#2 IN CLINICAL TRIAL ENROLLMENT

The Alliance for Clinical Trials in Oncology ranked us second nationally in overall accrual of patients into clinical studies.

TOP 3 IN THE NATION

Academic and Community Cancer Research United ranked us as one of the top three enrolling community sites for clinical research.

CANCER
WARRIOR

VETERAN

I flew 100 missions over Guantanamo and completed two tours in Vietnam.

This is my second tour with cancer.

I know how to fight.

My family at Illinois CancerCare fights right alongside me.

MILLARD DISEKER

Asked which is tougher, war or cancer, U.S. Navy veteran Millard Diseker doesn't hesitate. "Cancer is bad, but war is worse. This is a different kind of fight."

It's a battle he's been waging for some time now. Diagnosed with prostate and colon cancer eight years ago, Millard underwent treatment and spent seven years cancer-free. But the disease returned, and now he's in the midst of a two-year chemotherapy program. Despite side effects like fatigue, insomnia, mood swings and hot flashes, Millard remains positive about his treatment—a new drug combination that's part of a Foundation-funded clinical trial aiming to increase prostate cancer survival rates—and his future.

Cancer took Millard's first wife, Paula, three years ago, but he's been fortunate to find love again with his fiancée, Carol, and the two hope to get married in the spring. He credits the team at Illinois CancerCare for standing shoulder to shoulder with him throughout his fight. "They're fabulous people. From the lab, to the pharmacy, to the treatment pod, everyone here is so kind-hearted. They always have your six."

CLINICAL TRIALS

Since 1979, nearly 10,000 cancer patients have participated in more than 1,400 clinical trials through Illinois CancerCare, many funded in part by your contributions to the Foundation. Unlike bench research, which is conducted in a lab with test tubes and animals, clinical trials are applied research using human subjects—essential in advancing cutting-edge care and offered comfortably close to home.

Cancer touches everyone.

We want our support to uplift people locally.

“Live Life Well” is the mantra at Senara—and that commitment extends to cancer patients in our community.

After attending a national “Spa for the Pink” conference, owner Penny Kramer realized she could transform one of Senara’s existing events into one supporting local cancer patients. “We really wanted to get involved with Illinois CancerCare. They’re in healthcare just like us, and they’re based here.”

That’s how Senara’s annual Mayk-Overs and Margaritas event became a Foundation fundraiser. First held in 2012, this popular “girls-night-out” includes mini spa services, health lectures and screenings, fitness sessions, giveaways and, of course, margaritas. In 2015, Senara donated all proceeds from the event to the Foundation—raising a grand total of $2,500.

“Our patients and guests really rallied behind the cause. There was so much excitement, and so many people donated more than the $25 admission fee. Cancer truly touches everyone, and supporting the Foundation allows us to have a direct impact on families right here in our community.”

From “Mayk-overs” to mani-pedis to the “selfie booth” (above), local ladies were pampered in support of Illinois CancerCare Foundation.

COMMUNITY

Community outreach plays an important role in bringing us closer to cures. In addition to a variety of fundraising events, the Foundation supports educational opportunities that inform and reduce barriers. In 2015, for example, your gifts allowed us to host an expert panel discussing the successful screening and treatment of lung cancer.

For better and for worse, cancer connects families.

Ann and her husband, David

ANN BEST & FAMILY

When you consider all the things you'd like to pass on to your children, cancer certainly doesn't make the list. But given her family's history, Ann Best knew it was a possibility. Ann, her mother and her sister are all survivors, and she's lost several aunts and cousins to the disease.

After much deliberation, Ann underwent genetic testing. Since then, two of her siblings and several of her nieces and nephews have done the same. She's hoping her two sons will undergo testing soon.

Family members have received a mix of positive and negative results, but whatever the outcome, Ann's convinced it's better to be proactive than reactive. "There's so much anxiety when you think about how this knowledge might affect your kids. But the more you know, the better equipped you are to deal with it."

Knowing the important role the Foundation plays in helping promote and advance testing locally, Ann remains a vocal advocate, serving as a volunteer, donor and board member. "For my kids, I want to see really good research continue right here. The Foundation helps keep Illinois CancerCare on the cutting edge of treatments and therapies."

GENETICS

The Foundation supports genetic screening programs to identify hereditary cancers, with special emphasis on families at risk for colorectal and breast cancer. Your contributions help those in need receive financial assistance for tumor sequencing—and empower people to understand their risks and make informed decisions about their futures.

NORMAN & LADONNA TODD

If a cancer diagnosis has taught Norman Todd and his wife Ladonna one thing, it's that life goes on and you might as well live it to the fullest.

In 2015, shortly before Ladonna had the upper-left lobe of her lung removed due to cancer, Norman was diagnosed with rectal cancer. More than 45 treatments later, he's feeling good—and more appreciative than ever of everyday life. The couple spend about half their time at the Evening Star campground near Topeka, Illinois, and Norman says he's enjoying their time together there even more these days.

He's also hoping to play a role in helping future patients discover that same quality of life by taking part in a Foundation-funded clinical trial. Participants are testing a chemotherapy drug that may eliminate the need for radiation prior to surgery—which could help reduce side effects and get patients into the operating room faster. "I appreciate all that the people who went before me did to help develop new treatments, and I want to do what I can to help someone else in the future."

There is life after cancer.

And, for us, it's wonderful.

As part of the Foundation's commitment to clinical research, our annual CUREageous event honors area physicians who excel in this area. We present "Rock Doc" Awards to those who not only exhibit outstanding patient care, but also work to improve the lives of others through clinical research. In 2015, at our sixth annual event, we were honored to bestow Rock Doc honors on Drs. Paul Fishkin, Zahangir Khaled and Lisa Snyder.

VOLUNTEER

We believe in treating the whole body when fighting cancer.

Sue and her friend, Deborah Meyer (also a fellow survivor), demonstrate one of the exercises that helps cancer patients combat balance and weakness issues.

SUE PAUL

During her long career in rehabilitation, Sue Paul was convinced she and her fellow therapists were doing all they could for people with cancer. It wasn't until she was diagnosed herself that she realized how much more was possible.

At the time of her breast cancer diagnosis, Sue served as rehabilitation director for the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation (IPMR). Her treatment caused a number of weakness and balance issues, a common side effect of chemotherapy. "It opened my eyes to the fact that we could be doing more to treat cancer patients holistically. Therapists have a role to play in helping them get the rest of their lives back."

That realization led Sue to launch a research project in 2015 focused on balance, funded by a Foundation grant. Still ongoing, the study explores where and why balance issues occur, as well as how and when to target treatment. "The Foundation is ahead of the curve in funding projects like this. They care about quality of life issues, and they're willing to reach out and grab the expertise of others in our community."

That's why Sue, now a compliance officer for Comprehensive Prosthetics & Orthotics, continues to support the Foundation any way she can—as a volunteer, donor, advisory board member and event participant. "Knowledge is power, and we get that knowledge by supporting the Foundation."

The grants we provide connect external organizations to the funding they need to advance cancer treatment. In addition to the Foundation-funded chemotherapy and balance research study taking place at IPMR, your contributions are also supporting grants for lymphedema support and transportation assistance.

GRANTS

No one fights alone.

This battle takes all of us.

Dr. Sinclair is surrounded by support from his wife Celia (front row, 2nd from left) and his entire orthodontics staff.

DR. CRAIG SINCLAIR

For Craig Sinclair and his wife Celia, cancer is a battle they're fighting on multiple fronts. Craig's own treatment is ongoing, and as a member of the Foundation's board of directors, he's actively seeking and directing the funds that Illinois CancerCare uses to advance care for others.

"So many organizations are fighting for the same dollars. We need to keep that money coming into the Foundation, so we can continue to support not just research, but also the many little things people rarely hear about—like gas cards that help those in need get to the clinic for treatment or compression wraps that help patients deal with the side effects of chemotherapy."

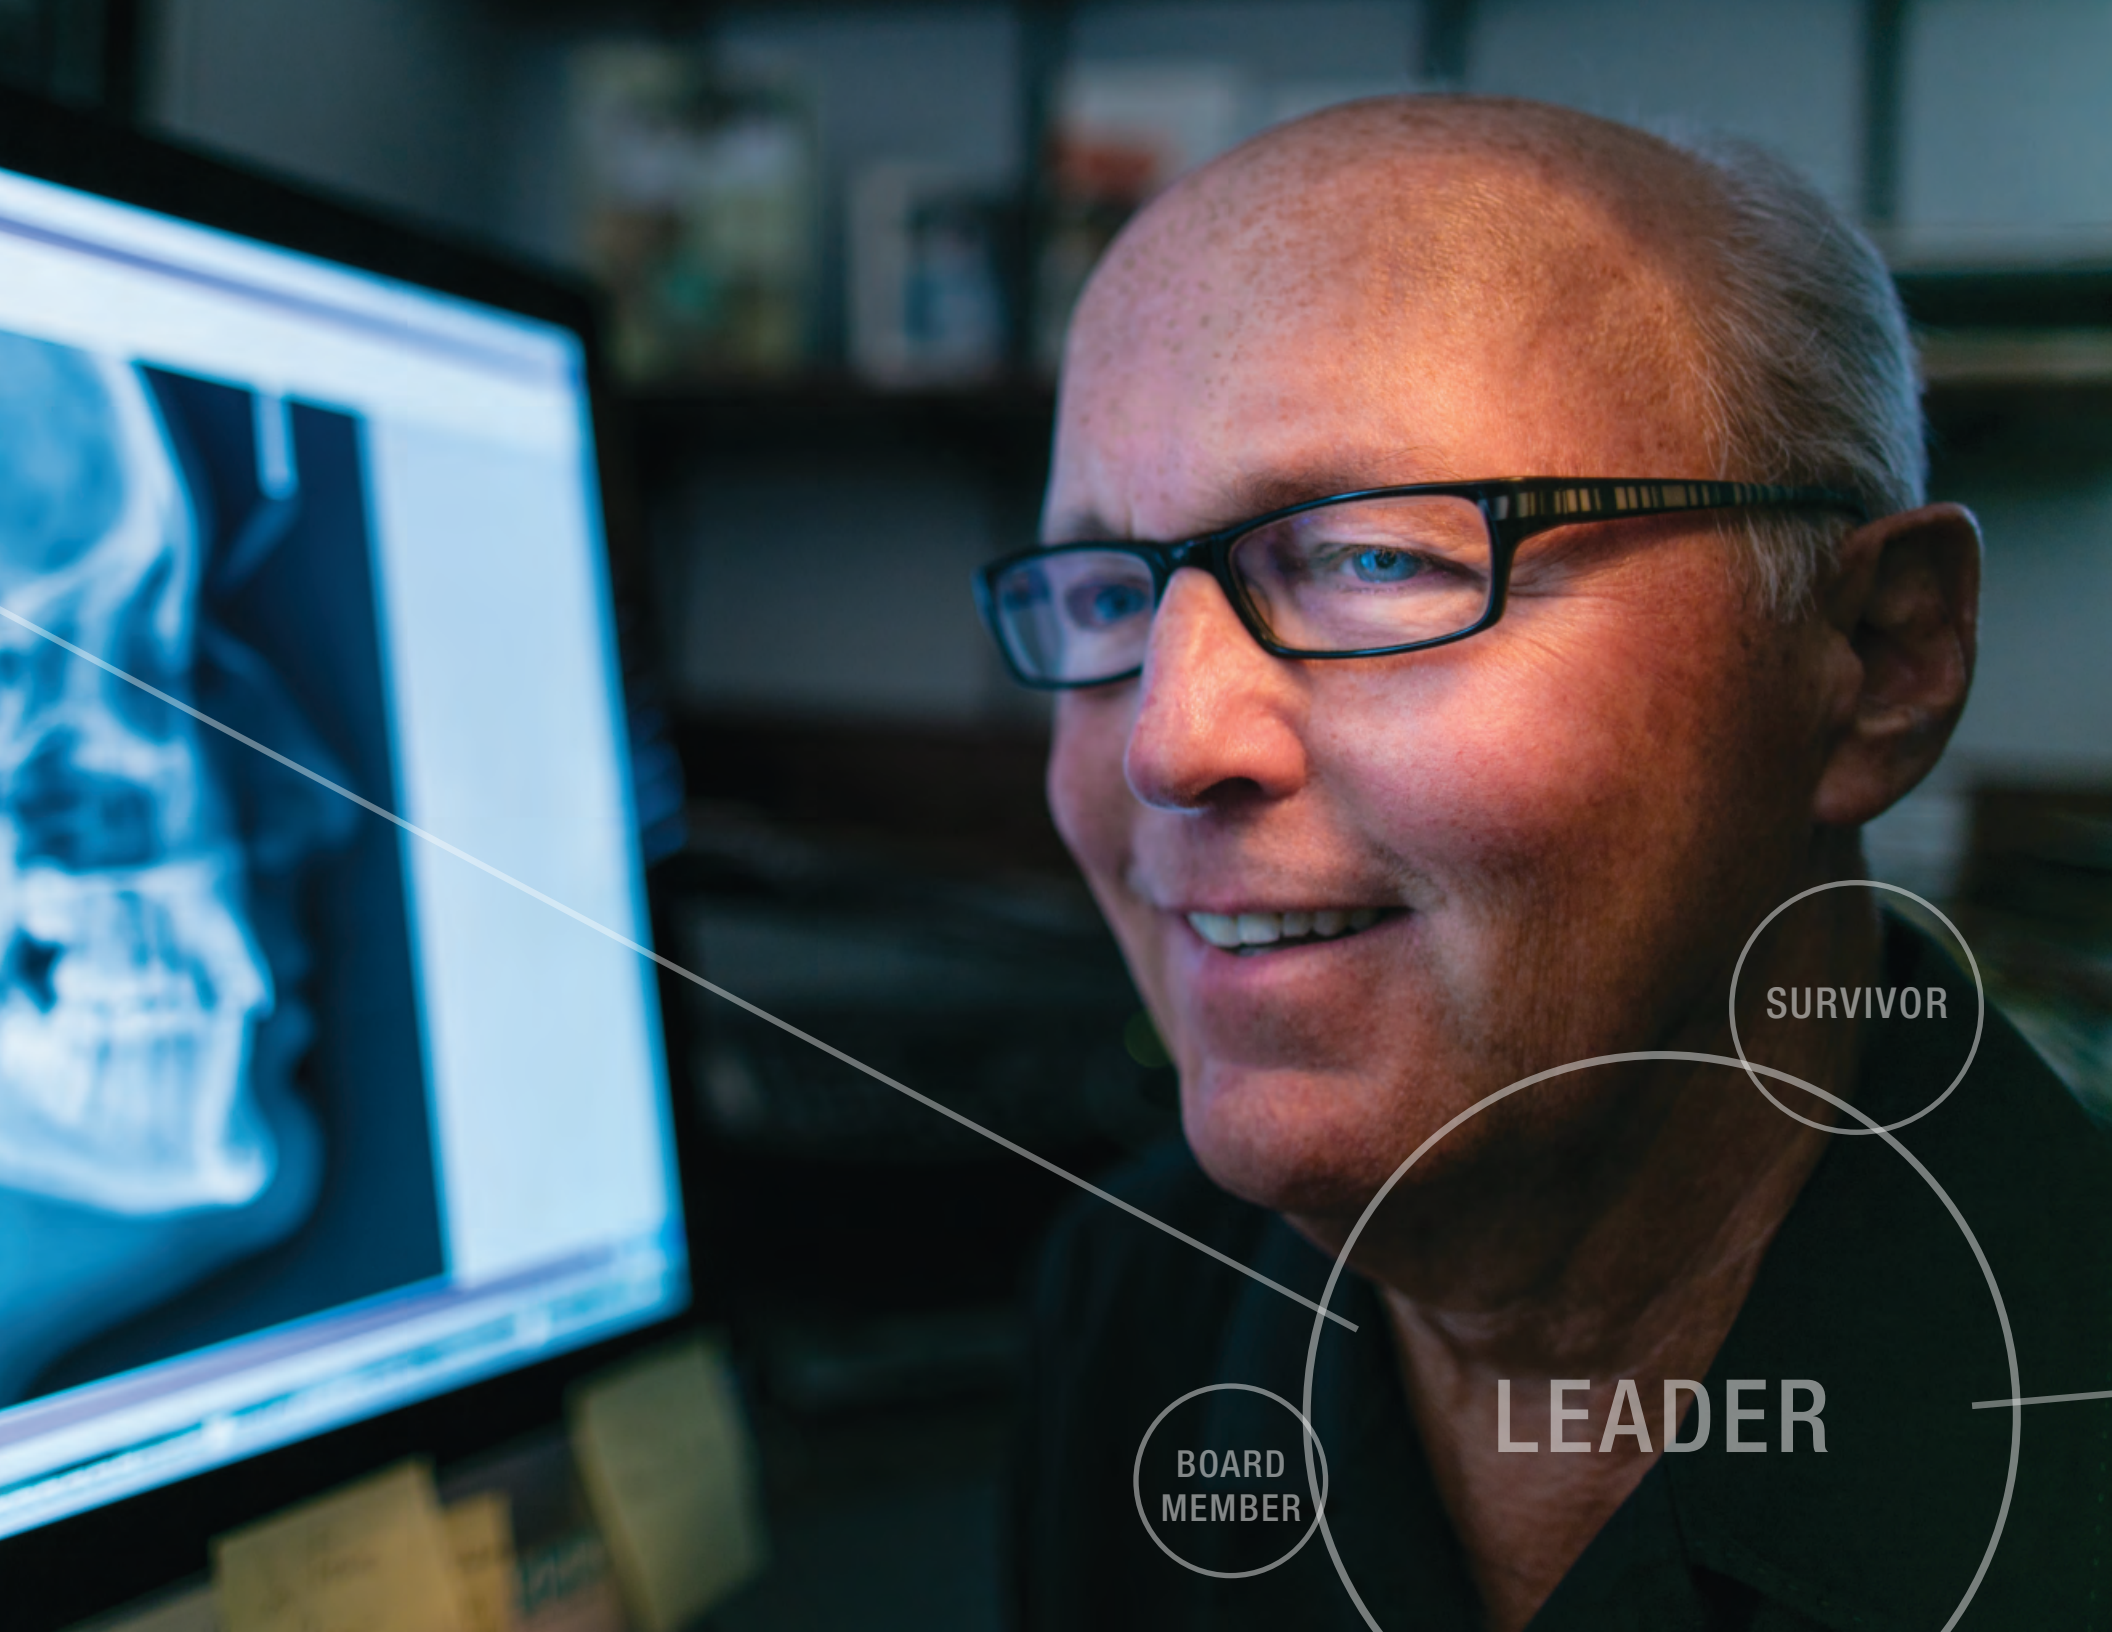

Craig's team at Central Illinois Orthodontics is doing its part to fight the disease as well. He and his staff take the day before Thanksgiving off work to deliver meals to cancer patients through the Foundation's Trust in Hope program, and his Christmas gift from his team each year is a financial contribution to the Foundation.

"I have all the confidence in the world in Illinois CancerCare and the Foundation. As a patient, I'm fortunate to be treated so well. As a donor and a member of this community, I want others to appreciate and support the jewel we have right here."

HOPE

Through the Foundation's Trust in Hope program, volunteers deliver much-needed support during the holidays. In 2015, you helped us provide 203 Thanksgiving meals and holiday presents to 40 children and 23 families. In addition, your donations to our Volunteer Fund enable our 120 volunteers to lend a helping hand and items of comfort to cancer patients and families.

OUR MISSION

The Illinois CancerCare Foundation is committed to funding Research, Education and Awareness of a disease which affects 1 in 3 people. As we fight to find cures for many types of cancers through nationally recognized research initiatives, it is our strong belief that our patients must have available to them every possible weapon in their battle.

The Illinois CancerCare Foundation seeks charitable support from throughout central and western Illinois to accomplish these objectives.

OUR REACH

The Illinois CancerCare Foundation supports patients and their families dealing with a cancer diagnosis throughout central and western Illinois—covering a metropolitan service area of more than one million people.
